Few countries have come closer to its accomplishment and overall dominance, but after it lost to Argentina in the last World Cup, Ibra has announced he's retiring at the end of the year. In this selection, we see how Argentina would look without him, just like Brazil with other stars like Pele, Ronaldo, Coelho or Neymar. After Brazil lost the World Cup for the second time since 1958, Ibra called time on his international career. He said he wouldn't play again for his country, and that now he would focus on his club career. Speaking about the World Cup, the striker said it wasn't a disaster. Of course, it didn't end the way most Brazilians would have wanted, and neither the head coach Tite or most of the players are anywhere near satisfied with the result. In an interview, the former sele
