What I like about the table. This table is one of the few or perhaps the only table with multiball. Most of the original Zaccaria tables did not have multiball in them. This one does have multiball but its super hard to get. You have to spell a word then get the ball up a ramp on the right side. I think you again have to spell the word again and get the second ball up the ramp then you have multiball. The table has no ball saver on it so multiball might last only about 7 seconds.

The music is catchy. The voice is nice but I cannot make out what it says. The table layout feels cramped. The ball likes to drain a lot. This is not a great table. I do like it because its so unique and it was based on a real table that is super hard to find now because of its age.
